People We Love

What would you wish for when you turn 50 years old?

koh boon wei photographer

I wish I can own a small boat and sail around the world when I turn 50.

Boon Wei was influenced by his father, who specialised in black and white photography. He started out as an assistant and worked his way up. He is now an established figure in the industry, with works published in local magazines. His foray into children's fashion allows him to discover new heights in which his art can progress.

michael tan photographer

I wish to semi-retire at 50.

What began as a childhood hobby for Michael turned into a highly successful photography career. He was first introduced to photography by his father and started commercial training in 1999 before establishing a company in 2001. A receiver of an Honourable Mention in the International Photography Awards in 2008, he currently shoots for various publications, advertising and government agencies.

beny gan photographer

To see people all around me to be happy and say goodbye to worries.

The photography graduate from Nanyang Academy of Fine Arts relishes the challenge of fusing his artistic instincts with commercial sense. Having worked with both homegrown brands and advertising agencies spanning across different regions such as Shanghai, Malaysia and Beijing, his repertoire is nothing short of impressive. Beny's inspirations include Caravaggio, whose mastery of dramatic light-and-dark effects has led him to create a style like no other.
